The Last Drop Cafe

538 Marrickville Rd

Dulwich Hill

Philo Agora's new home is the Last Drop Cafe in Dulwich Hill. This is a great coffee house, next door to Gleebooks with a Greek inspired ambience and food to match. It is located close to the junction of New Canterbury Rd and Marrickville Rd and Parramatta Road and can be easily reached by bus. Plenty of car parking both behind and across from the cafe.

At the Last Drop Café they take pride in their coffee, Greek inspired food and friendly service.

This is a place to watch the world go by: in summer sit outside and be part of the local shopping strip, and in winter take a cosy table inside and peruse the latest art show which changes every 6-8 weeks. As the longest established café in Dulwich Hill, we are part of the community and are keen to promote local talent.

How to get there:

The 426 bus stops on Marrickville Rd, very close to Last Drop Cafe

The 428 bus stops on New Canterbury Rd, on the corner of Marrickville Rd.

Last Drop is approximately 10 minutes walk from Dulwich Hill railway station
